Porfirio Diaz President of the United Mexican States: To His Fellow Countrymen It is with sincere pleasure that I again come before my countrymen, in compliance with the duty I have imposed on myself, to give them a personal account of the progress and condition of the different branches of the administration during every four year period of my mandate, at the moment when the electors renew their trust. I believe that by this proceeding as well as by my own efforts and those of my fellow workers in the public service, I respond to the distinction with which I have been honored by the people in elevating me to the high and difficult office of Chief Executive, and I must reiterate my determination, which is every day greater, to employ my best efforts on behalf of the welfare, dignity and progress of the nation. Before presenting a brief statement of the events of the last four years and of the administrative action to which they have given rise, I consider it necessary to give prominence to a fact that I consider of importance and of high present and future significance. The period covered by this report has really been a time of trial for the vitality of the country and for its steady and stable progress. Since the consolidation of peace and the full entrance of the Republic on the path of advancement, there has been no administrative period that has not presented to the administration, some grave difficulty to overcome, some serious obstacle to be set aside, some vital problem to resolve, or some urgent necessity to satisfy. About...
